OUR MISSION

We are known for prompt service and high-quality work—all made possible by our experienced team of experts with in-depth industry knowledge. We understand that every roof is a significant investment, whether you run a commercial business or are a homeowner. The team at Cross Timbers Roofing wants to help you protect that investment and ensure you get the best performance possible out of your roof.

We only partner with the top manufacturers in the roofing industry for our materials because, after nearly three decades, we've seen proof of the difference that product quality makes. For us, that is what it's all about—working directly with you to ensure client satisfaction and using the best materials available for every project.

I've never had men to work any job who have been nice, so neat and considerate! I love my new roof and will definitely refer anyone I hear of needing [a roof] to you! Very professional and accommodating!
